

The 40/70 Rule:
Bridging the Communication Gap
Between Seniors and Their Families

A panel of experts will be available to answer questions about starting conversations that will assure respect, independence, and quality of life for aging family members

Cranston Central Library

140 Sockanosset Cross Road

Cranston, RI

6:00–7:00 pm on Wednesday, January 27th

Call 401-667-2923 to reserve your place for this important event

The panel will include:

Jean Allard, SRES, Vice President, Keystone Real Estate Group

Tuie Mellor, RN/Home Health Liaison Nurse, Life Care at Home

Joe Parente, Financial Services Representative, MetLife

Steve St. Onge, Certified Aging in Place Specialist, President, R. I. Kitchen & Bath

Jill Sugarman, Esq. Elder Law/Estate Planning Attorney, McLaughlin & Quinn, LLC

Valerie Topp, Chief Operating Officer, Home Instead Senior Care

Refreshments and educational materials will be provided